Carrie Martin

Since a chance meeting with guitar virtuoso, Gordon Giltrap and with his mentoring, Carrie has become a world wide, much admired musician.

Her last two albums Seductive Sky and Entity included guests Elliott Randall, Gordon Giltrap, Oliver Wakeman, Daniel Cassidy (brother of late Eva Cassidy) and ex Bad Company guitarist Dave Colwell.

Her latest album 'Evergreen' includes lead guitarist Roger Fisher from the rock band Heart.

All albums are a snapshot of an artist at the peak of her creativity and gaining her fine reviews plus the chance to perform under the Vintage Guitar banner at NAMM 2020, 2022 and 2023 in California. Carrie has performed on tour in Canada and also guests at various guitar shows around the UK to demo her use of open tunings.

Just a few quotes of many:-

'Phenomenal' Rick Wakeman CBE

"Having heard this album I think if it weren't for covid times this would have been a natural for radio 6 and Radio 2" Andy Snipper Music-News.com

It's obvious from the moment you hear Carrie Martin sing that she is an outstanding vocalist with passion in each breath and she is a fine guitar player

Taha Al

“Taha Al Bodhan plays a range of middle-eastern and European instruments - the oud, saz, mandolin, banjo and violin - and he sings traditional Syrian folk songs. He is a Christian Kurd and comes from a large family of musicians and artists who were all forced to flee from Syria. Because of the war, the entire family lost their home, livelihoods and possessions and have been dispersed across three countries.

Taha, his wife and three children came to the UK in May 2023. Despite trauma and loss (and severe visual impairment) Taha continues to play, is learning English, and he and his family are making a new life for themselves in Scarborough.”

THE WHIPPETS...

Not your average Ceilidh Band, The Whippets will be Transforming the Traditional, for your dancing delight, with Anna Shannon - fiddle, flute & recorder; Si Rogers - guitar, Pete Everitt - fiddle, Rich Hodgson bass; and calling the tunes - Dave Mason.

SATURDAY at 5 o'clock.

Annie & King

Annie & King are a Scarborough based Crossover Folk duo. They play their own original music and select covers in their own unique style. They currently have five albums out which are available online on all the major music platforms.

Recent quote from THF “I thought that your songwriting and your performance was superb....original and thoughtful. Some of the best original material that I've heard for long time”

Martin Heaton

Let me introduce myself. I am an award winning singer songwriter from Pickering

Since being a boy I have written songs and played guitar and also with others in a country rock band.

By the late 1990s I realised what I wanted to listen to didn't really exist, so I set about writing songs for my own benefit.

These progressed and developed to where I am today.

Writing, playing guitar and performing what hopefully other people will enjoy.

"Keep it Live"

2 Black Sheep and a Stallion

Two Black Sheep & a Stallion, originally a three voice a cappella group, Rom Akehurst , vocals (Brighton), Martin Bartlett fiddle & vocals (Southend via Grimsby) Peter Outhart vocals (Newby) were joined by Frank Palmister Banjo et al vocals (Malton) & Damian Fynnes guitar & vocals (Dublin) five years ago. A diverse collection of songs aimed to involve audience participation in the mould of good old traditional folk.

John Drakes

- I have been playing acoustic guitar since I was 19 years old. I heard Ralph McTell's classic song "Streets of London" on the radio and immediately went out and bought an old Spanish guitar. My journey had begun.
- As well as McTell, other early influences were Donovan, James Taylor, Paul Simon, Dylan and just about anyone with an acoustic guitar and a story to tell.
- As well as picking my way through McTell songs, I began to write my own, along with a developing fingerpicking style. I am entirely self taught and every time I pick up the guitar I am surprised and delighted by the tunes that are hiding in there!
- I write about social issues, about things that have happened to me, and about people I have known over the years.
- I have a fair number of love songs and also some slightly more "edgy" environmental songs.
- I love strong melodies, moving base lines, and the warm rich sound of my beloved 1954 Gibson J50. I cannot walk past it without picking it up and running my fingers over the strings!
- Someone once asked me if I considered myself to be a poet or a song writer. My answer wasthat I try to find poetry in my songs.
- Since coming to live in Yorkshire 11years ago, I have found a wonderful thriving folk scene and play regularly in local folk clubs.
- I was lucky enough to win the Graeme Miles song writing contest at the Saltburn Folk Festival in 2016, and also was joint winner of the Robin Hood's Bay folk weekend song contest in 2018.

Blue Kites

Blue Kites (Lynn Sunley & Phil Friend) are a duo based in North Yorkshire.

We perform acoustic music incorporating elements of folk, jazz, country, bluegrass, classical & psychedelia - playing a mix of self-penned songs and covers, blended in our own particular style.

* Lynn Sunley - singer - vocal, choral & instrumental arranger & multi-instrumentalist. Musical influences – everything! Regular soloist with Harmonia Ladies Choir and co-founder of Four Quarters a cappella quartet and The Harmonettes vocal ensemble. Lynn finds it very hard to sit/stand still while performing, even on slow songs. This often gets her in trouble with serious musicians! She doesn't care! If the beat moves you.....

* Phil Friend - singer-songwriter/instrumental arranger Vocals, guitar, cittern. Influences in folk & roots, progressive genres, jazz, blues, world music. Also performs solo & with other line-ups including North Wood Drift & The Sweet Martinis. He has done a variety of live performances on local radio including Vixen101, Vale Radio, Beverley FM & Tempo FM. Occasionally smiles on-stage but more noted for strange facial contortions while singing.

We play together mainly around North and East Yorkshire clubs, folk & beer festivals & concert venues (and also each play, and have played, similar venues with other bands and as solo artists). We have also collaborated on a number of recordings with various artists.

The background of the image is a stylized representation of the Irish flag, consisting of three vertical stripes of green, white, and orange. The stripes are contained within a rounded rectangular frame.

Steve & Dee

With a wealth of music from many past and present musical collaborations playing folk to easy listening, the band members are Dee Marshall (flute, saxophone, percussion, and vocals,) Jo Wheldon (fiddle and vocals,) and Steve Marshall (guitar bouzouki and vocals)

Adie Sanders

You've heard of 'three chords and the truth' right? Well that's what I'm trying to do - keep it simple, tell you my truth and make a connection. Hit the bell if you like what you hear.

The Roddy Gordon Band
